

Leadership In Project Management

“For over 35 years, our clients have entrusted RCP to guide them to success by achieving optimum time, cost and quality outcomes on their projects.”

Russell Martoo, Managing Director, RCP

RCP is one of Australia's largest independent project management consultancies serving the property development, construction, resources and infrastructure industries. For over 35 years, we have delivered developments for our clients across a wide range of sectors including aged care, aviation, commercial, education, health, hotels & resorts, industrial, infrastructure, office fit-outs, public buildings, recreation, residential, resources, retail, sporting facilities and urban renewal. RCP provides trusted, professional advice across all project stages and is one of the few consultancies to offer specialised project programming services in-house. We are renowned for meeting the challenges posed by the unique nature of the construction industry, providing the highest level of control over project risks.

With offices in Adelaide, Brisbane, Gold Coast, Melbourne, Sydney and Townsville, RCP is committed to achieving optimum results for our clients through delivering solution focused outcomes.

RCP is owned and managed by directors who maintain regular personal contact with clients. This experienced and independent approach enables RCP to deliver the highest quality, on-budget, on-time outcomes for clients.

Service Excellence

RCP is dedicated to providing premium quality services and assisting our clients to achieve the greatest return on their investment. Our award winning team of professionals have been instrumental in the successful delivery of many complex landmark projects across all sectors of the market in Australasia and as far afield as the USA, China and the UK, with several projects earning Australian Institute of Building and Australian Institute of Project Management awards.

Resolve

Our strength comes from our people. Our multi-disciplinary project managers are considered as trusted advisors, who take ownership of project issues, provide checks and balances to project teams and have the required experience to manage time and cost risks and deliver solution focused outcomes.

RCP attracts industry leaders to our service focused team who live by RCP's values of trust, integrity and innovation. Our hand-picked team includes qualified architects, engineers, quantity surveyors and construction professionals who provide a broad base of expert knowledge. By allocating the people within our team with the experience to meet each project's specific need, we have an informed understanding of the specific nature of a project and its inherent challenges.

With the perfect balance of fresh new project management experts driving innovation, and long serving award winning specialists overseeing projects, RCP's professionals form a strong combined group that continuously adapts its delivery in response to an evolving market place. Whether you need short term specialist resources or management of your entire project, we have the people with the skills to help you control your outcomes.

Your Trusted Advisor

RCP is committed to providing impeccable client service and advice by listening, understanding client requirements and delivering high quality outcomes, on time and on budget. We aim to exceed client expectations and provide solutions that result in long term trusted working relationships. Our brand promise to you is that our leadership and experience will create successful outcomes.
